

Title I Program in Elbert County School District Supplemental Educational Services

What is Supplemental Educational Services (SES)?

Supplemental educational services include academic assistance such as tutoring, remediation and other educational interventions designed to increase the academic achievement of students in low-performing schools which are provided outside of the regular school day.

Who is eligible to receive Supplemental Educational Services (SES)?

Students from low-income families who are attending Title I schools that are in their second year of school improvement (i.e., have not made adequate yearly progress (AYP) for three or more years), in corrective action, or in restructuring status are eligible to receive these services. If the funds available are insufficient to provide SES to each eligible student whose parent(s)/legal guardian(s) request these services, the school system must give priority to serving the lowest-achieving eligible students.

Who provides Supplemental Educational Services (SES) to eligible students?

The State is required to identify organizations, both public and private, that qualify to provide these services. Parents of eligible students are notified by the school system that supplemental educational services will be made available.

How are providers selected?

Parents can select any approved provider that they feel will best meet their child's needs in the area served by the school system or within a reasonable distance of that area. The school district will sign an agreement with providers selected by parents, and the provider will then provide services to the child and report on the child's progress to the parents and to the school.

Who should parents contact to find out more information about Supplemental Educational Services?

Parents should contact Misty Duncan, graduation coach for Elbert County Comprehensive High School at 706-213-4150 or Dr. Martha J. Noble, Associate Superintendent for Title I services.
