

Madison Harpold, Jade Moss, and Cadey Rice Career Pathway SOTM January 2018 – Fine Arts

Madison Harpold, Jade Moss, and Cadey Rice have been selected as the Career Pathways Students of the Month for January 2018 by the Fine Arts Department.

Madison is the daughter of Scott & Angie Harpold. Her instructor, Mrs. Matthew Everhart, says that "Madison is a sophomore oboist in the ECCHS Blue Devil Symphonic Winds. She has been a member of the District 14 Honor Band and selected twice to attend the UGA January Band Festival. Additionally, she has received superior ratings as a member of the ECCHS Concert Band and as a soloist in Solo and Ensemble Competition. Recently Madison shined as soloist at the Holiday Concert performed by the Symphonic Winds."

Jade is the daughter of Jacquelyn Cade and Clarence Heard. Her instructor, Mr. David Bennett, says that "Jade is a member of the Art IV class. At this level, students are in independent study format, meaning they must exhibit skills and traits such as self-motivation, responsibility, time management, creativity, originality, as well as all the artistic skills to complete a series of artworks for a final critique. Jade has not only proven her skills as an artist, but she has stayed on top of each of the other traits mentioned. In fact, she stayed ahead of everyone else and has completed her series well before the deadline, while others are struggling to finish their work. Jade has impressed me with her maturity in working through this whole process.”

Cadey is the daughter of Phillip & Rhonda Rice. Her instructor, Mrs. Tracy brown, says that “Cadey is being recognized as the Drama Student of the Month. She has the highest average in Drama 1 and is a member of the One Act Team. She is a hard worker and is always willing to help others. She has a passion for Drama and loves to learn all aspects of performing. She is an asset to her class and her team!”

Congratulations on this well-deserved honor, Ladies!
